Young Entrepreneurs of America

How to Get the Most out of This Year's Summit

Please help students come prepared by dressing appropriately and by bringing their own notebooks and pens or pencils.

Due to the growing number of participants, this event will be crowded. Please do your best to encourage participation and help students limit distracting items like cell phones, playing cards, surface-to-air missiles, etc.

Important Note: In order to encourage student participation and provide teachers with an extra incentive to incorporate Summit presentations with classroom curriculum, this year YEA is giving students extra credit.

Students are strongly encouraged to pick one speaker from the day's events and write a 2-page summary of the speaker and key learnings from the presentation. Students can submit written summaries by e-mailing them to brian@yeabiz.com. Teachers are encouraged to require students to complete this assignment and/or provide extra credit for the extra effort.

Great prizes will be given to the best summary and to three randomly chosen entries.

Speakers & Events

This year's event is going to be bigger than ever before. With over 500 students from more than 20 high schools scheduled to attend, this will be our biggest Summit ever.

We have expanded this year's program to include 17 individual presentations, two panel discussions and two hands-on workshops. This allows us to bring invite 32 speakers including 25 new presenters who have never spoken at the YEA Summit.

And let's not forget t-shirts, prizes, many networking opportunities, and this year's keynote speaker, Larry H. Miller.
